An Appeal to President Gloria Macapagal - Arroyo to lift EO - 839

Dear Madama President,

We are now with you in wanting to help the victims of typhoon Ondoy and Pepeng. We believe, however, that freezing the prices of fuels throughout the entire island of Luzon to help the typhoon victims, based only in several provinces in the North and in some areas of Metro Manila and adjoining provinces, creates enormous short and long term risks for the whole country, including eventually the very people we want to help.

The immediate danger to the economy, business, and employment from freezing fuel prices far outweighs the intended benefits. A weakened oil sector, forced to sell at a loss, cannot continue to play its strategic role as the government's partner in the national growth and in ensuring an adequate level of supply given the volatility of world prices of crude oil and petroleum products.

When we contemplate the resulting supply shortages that will arise as a result of Executive Order (EO) 839, it is not provided to blacklisted government nor to subsidize the economy but simply to address what the consequences of EO 839 will be.

Our industry has been accused of not being transparent and not wanting to open our books. This is further from the truth.

- Our books have always been open to the public because we regularly submit our financial statements to the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). Anyone who wants to scrutinize our books can simply go to the SEC.
- The Department of Energy (DOE) has also formed independent commissions to audit our books, namely, the 2002 Alindado commission and the 2008 SEC/University of Asia and the Pacific commission. Both commissions did not find evidence of manipulation or mispricing. In fact the Alindado Commission concluded that the average industry returns from 1995 to 2004 was at 2%, which was well below the industry full rate of 7% at that time.
- What we have requested is for the Commission on Audit to open our books, as it is not in their mandate to audit private companies. The Department of Justice has upheld this position.

As for transparency, we regularly submit voluminous trade information to the DOE, who religiously monitors our prices and compares it with international prices, i.e. Mean-of-Mark Singapore (MOPS). Anyone who substitutes an MOPS rate compares our prices and do a limited cost comparison. For the period October 9-13, the average Singapore MOPS for Diesel was $15.03 per barrel (FOB). To convert this FOB price to Petros per liter, one simply multiplies it by the baron rate (P 47.47 per USD) or the baron and divides by 159 liters per barrel. Then add 3% duty and 11% VAT which will result in a price of P 29.29 per liter. Please note this does not include our freight to the Philippines, insurance, storage and handling, delivery to the stations, dealer's cost of company margins and miscellaneous charges. Yet we are being asked to sell at P 28 per liter or below, which were the prices prevailing during 10th October 2009.

Madama President, we humbly request that you allow us to discuss these matters with you and to explain our side and how we can better assist those who are really in need of support, without disrupting the economy and driving away investors.

We know that everyone wants low prices and this is a popular issue for you, but you have always said that your objective is not to be popular but to do what is good and right for the country. All of us have responded to your call to duty and have been responsible corporate citizens and we are prepared to do more. Please allow us to sit down and discuss with you, so that you may consider rescinding EO 839.

We strongly urge you to consider our request so that we can all move forward and focus on our core activities of nation building and the rehabilitation of the areas affected by the typhoons.

Bishops on aerial spraying: Immoral

(MANILA) (U)-IM

The bishops of the Philippines, in a statement issued last week, declared that spraying of insecticides is an immoral activity.

The bishops' statement, issued by the Philippine Episcopal Conference, said that the spraying of insecticides is an immoral activity because it is a violation of the right to life and health of the people.

The bishops also said that the spraying of insecticides is a violation of the right to a healthy environment.

The bishops' statement was issued in response to a request from the Department of Agriculture for the bishops to support the spraying of insecticides.

Ritual sets off 148-km march vs Laiban Dam

A ritual ceremony in the town of San Juan, Ilocos Norte, set off a 148-km march against the Laiban Dam project.

The march, which is led by a group of farmers, is expected to reach the dam site in San Juan, Ilocos Norte, in about two weeks.

The farmers are protesting against the dam project because it will flood their land and displace them.

The march is part of a larger campaign to stop the dam project.

Kids of OFWs help 'Ondoy' victims

By Maria Cruz

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — A group of children of Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs) in the United States are helping victims of the recent typhoon Ondoy in the Philippines. The group, called the "Kids of OFWs," is a non-profit organization that provides educational and social services to children of OFWs. They are currently raising funds to purchase relief supplies for the victims of Ondoy. The group has already collected over $10,000 in donations and is planning to send the supplies to the Philippines in the near future. The children of OFWs are also helping to spread awareness about the needs of the victims of Ondoy. They are using their social media accounts to share information about the relief efforts and to encourage others to donate. The group is also organizing a charity concert in the United States to raise more funds for the victims of Ondoy. The children of OFWs are proud to be part of the relief efforts and are committed to helping the victims of Ondoy in any way they can.

OPINION

MANILA, NOV. 11 (INQUIRER) — The Philippines is a country of great potential, but it is a country that is still in need of a lot of work. The government must take steps to improve the country's infrastructure, to create more jobs, and to ensure that the country's resources are used wisely. The people must also be educated and encouraged to take an active part in the country's development.

Ashamed to stay

In Manila, the Philippines, it is a common sight to see a man in a suit and tie, with a briefcase in his hand, walking down the street. He is a businessman, and he is going to work. But when he gets to his office, he finds that he has no work to do. The office is empty, and the only sound is the ticking of the clock. He sits at his desk, looking at the clock, and he feels a sense of shame. He is ashamed to stay in his office, because he knows that he is not doing his job. He is ashamed to stay in his office, because he knows that he is not contributing to the country's development.

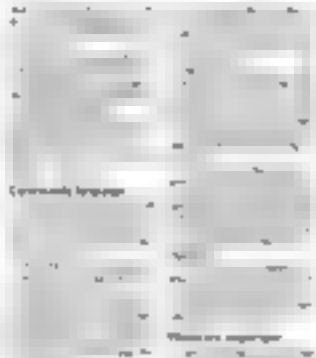

Figure 1 is a line graph showing the effect of the concentration of the inhibitor on the rate of polymerization. The y-axis is labeled "Rate of polymerization" and ranges from 0 to 1.0. The x-axis is labeled "Concentration of inhibitor" and ranges from 0 to 1.0. The curve starts at (0, 1.0) and decreases as the concentration of inhibitor increases, approaching 0.5 at a concentration of 1.0.

Early taxpayers scheme gets support from DOF

The Department of Finance (DOF) has expressed its support for the Early Taxpayers Scheme (ETS), a program aimed at encouraging early tax payment by businesses. The scheme allows businesses to receive a discount on their tax liability if they pay their taxes before the due date. The DOF believes that this scheme will help to improve the government's cash flow and encourage businesses to pay their taxes on time.
